Response:

Eligibility for publicly funded physiotherapy services in Ontario is not changing. With a referral from a physician or a nurse practitioner, seniors aged 65 and older, those 19 years of age and under, those discharged from hospital for a condition requiring physiotherapy and Ministry of Community and Social Services clients will continue to be eligible for publicly funded physiotherapy services in participating clinics.

What's changing is that these services will be available in more communities across Ontario. All Ontarians whose condition is such that they require physiotherapy services in their homes remains eligible for in-home physiotherapy.

In addition, all long-term care residents who have an assessed need for physiotherapy as determined by their regulated health professionals will still be eligible to receive resident-specific physiotherapy - and they will continue to have access to exercise classes.

Ontario will provide more than 200,000 additional seniors and patients with improved access to high-quality physiotherapy, exercise, and falls prevention classes.

Beginning August 1, 2013, more individualized physiotherapy as well as exercise and falls prevention classes will be available in long-term care homes and in communities across Ontario. These improvements will:

- Enhance access to exercise and falls prevention classes for 68,000 additional seniors in community settings;

- Provide funding for one-on-one physiotherapy for all long-term care residents with assessed need, plus group exercise classes;
- Offer in-home physiotherapy for 60,000 more seniors and people with mobility issues;
- Expand clinic-based physiotherapy services across Ontario for 90,000 more seniors and eligible patients.

In addition, Ontario will integrate physiotherapy into family health care settings, including Family Health Teams, Nurse Practitioner Led Clinics, and Community Health Centres.

By funding vital services such as physiotherapy, exercise and falls prevention classes, Ontario is able to improve the availability of these services across the province and significantly boost access for seniors and others in need.
